1003.420 Repeal of Conflicting Ordinances.

1. All ordinances and parts of ordinances relating to zoning and planning previously adopted by the County Council of St. Louis County, including special procedure ordinances and all orders or parts of orders adopted by the County Court of St. Louis County, which are inconsistent with any provision of this Ordinance, are repealed to the extent of such inconsistency. An ordinance or part of an ordinance shall be deemed inconsistent with this ordinance if it establishes a regulation or authorization which is inconsistent with a regulation or authorization under the new provisions of this Chapter.

2. Chapter 1003 SLCRO 1974, as amended, known as "the Zoning Ordinance of St. Louis County" is repealed, except for the "St. Louis County Zoning Map" (see Section 1003.030), and provided, however, that the prosecution, fine, or penalty for the violation of any provision of or amendment to any zoning order or ordinance shall not be abated by the enactment of this Ordinance.

1003.425 Exclusions.

The provisions of this Chapter shall not apply to building demolition material sites lawfully operated in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 621, SLCRO 1964, as amended, nor to the extraction of sand and gravel from stream beds conducted in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 1006, SLCRO 1964, as amended.